63 DISHY DESIGNERS

Oh, what the hell, another good reason to give some of these boys some work. Commission away and damn the consequences!

64 Bill Amberg: leather man with a panache for handbags. Ask him nicely – he might do you a leather bowl or even a floor; 10 Chepstow Rd, W2 (0171 727 3560).

CHRIS TUBBS

65 Roy Sant: refreshingly ballsy with products to match, even if he does believe that they're 'open to interpretation', Roy Sant (0171 704 1592).

PHOTOGRAPH:44

67 Eric Degenhardt: he who designed the glorious bench on page 54, as part of his sleek Uniques range. Pretty good description all round! Call (0049 221 923 4460).

SEAMUS NICOLSON

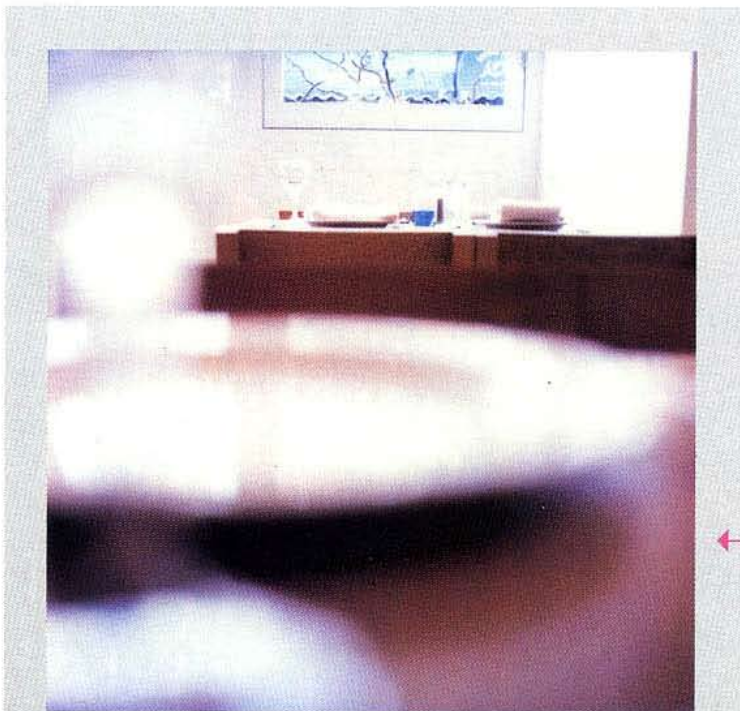

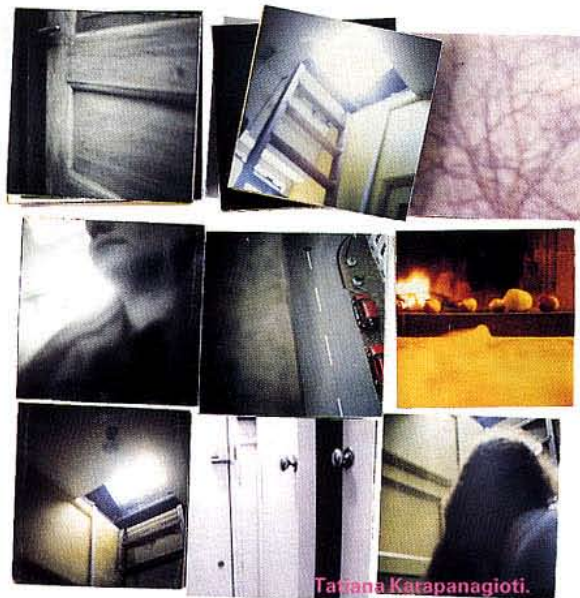

66 Michael Anastassiades Smooth and suave, this former engineer turned designer marries art and design. See his latest project at the Halepi restaurant (page 28) for a taster (0171 928 7527).

68 Matthew Hilton: he's the one who did the Balzac chair (see ELLE DECO October 98). He's just done a chair for fab plastics company Authentics (0181 556 5353).

69 RUBBER AND LATEX A 100% natural resource, one of the most directional materials around and ripe for interior manipulation. Check out the sexy stretchy furniture at Molecular Module like the 'Footstool' by Jozefien Gronheid, a latex rubber over metal frame number, £775, available to order at Mondon (0171 792 4633).

9 TATIANA KARAPANAGIOTI. For the most exquisite business cards, you can't beat Tatiana Karapanagioti. Buy some of your own, mounted onto wood like a precious puzzle piece, £40, Colette in Paris (00 331 55 35 33 90), or from Tatiana direct on (0171 401 3066). →

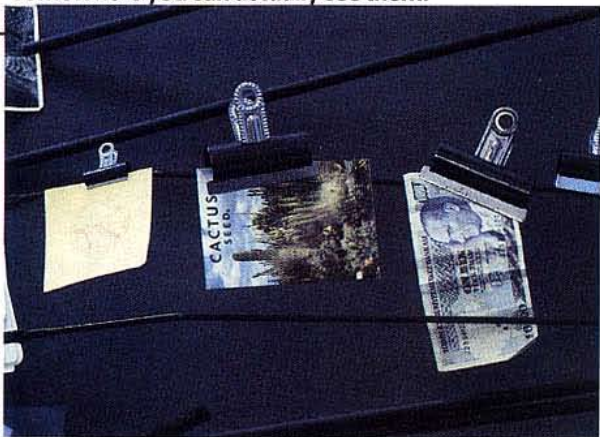

10 HALEPI

← We love Greek food! And the only place to eat it is the latest Halepi restaurant at 48-50 Belsize Lane, NW3 (0171 431 5855). Cool blond furniture, easy atmosphere, a pantry-style kitchen and a bowlful of atmospheric pix by Tatiana Karapanagioti – so gorgeous you'll want a handful. Space and furniture by Michael Anastassiades and Wim de Mul.

11 BULLDOG CLIPS

Essential handy home kit. String a line from corner to corner and clip all those terribly essential bits of paper somewhere you can actually see them.

HENRY BOURNE

12 THE ERICOFON

Check any cultish movie and the baddie always barks into a phone that looks like this. A fine figure of a phone and the first one-piece too. We predict a comeback. Designed by the Swedes Ralph Lysell and Hugo Blomberg in the 40s, the Ericofon combines sensuality (weighty in the hand etc) and functionality – earpiece and transmitter in one, dial on the base, etc. Available from SCP (0171 739 1869). Approx £99.
